

HOME SWEET! HOME

Transformation is defined as a thorough or dramatic change in form or appearance. This home has truly been transformed in every way.

What is a good recipe for transforming a property? Add the perfect location to good bones and mix in some imagination. This home is near Joe Pool Lake, and at the beginning of this project it was quite dated, feeling dark and very closed in. Thankfully, these homeowners saw the diamond in the rough and weren't afraid to take on the challenge of this project size.

They partnered with Mansfield Custom Homes to take down walls, add new cabinetry, lighting, plumbing fixtures, hardware and paint. One of the main features of this home is the glass staircase and glass walls that open up the views and the feel of the space. They added style and elegance that really sets this home apart from others.

We all love a good transformation story. That is evidenced by the popularity of the home makeover shows. Although the real-life stories usually take a little longer, may cost a little more and might have some frustrating moments, there is no denying that this project was worth overcoming the challenges.

We went through a season in this country where it seemed as if we were quick to throw out or bulldoze anything that didn't work for us. I believe we are seeing a resurgence in putting in the extra effort to re-purpose and remodel to add to things of value.

If you are ready to transform your home, please contact Hayden Dalley and the Mansfield Custom Homes team via email at hayden@mchtexas.com or call 682-208-1576.

— Julie Short, Mansfield Custom Homes

