

Dr. Kenyon Godwin

Curis Functional Health

Dr. Kenyon Godwin, founder of Active Family Wellness Center and long one of the Arlington area's most respected and trusted wellness specialists, recently moved his practice to the Curis Functional Health team.

The reason behind the transition was in keeping with Dr. Godwin's passion for helping others - and it underscored how healthcare and entrepreneurship can work hand-in-hand. In essence, the good doctor took a great business and service idea and made it even better.

"Curis Functional Health is growing and focused on providing complete holistic patient-centered care within the communities they serve," he says.

"I love the model: chiropractic, counseling, and functional nutrition. The model is in alignment with my model of mind, body, and spirit. The people and teams involved are awesome, and the potential to advance the health status of our community leveraging the resources of a group is exciting."

Curis Functional Health has four offices, including Dr. Godwin's two offices in Arlington, at 4927 S. Collins St., Suite 105 and 4120 N. Collins St., #200.

"What that means," Dr. Godwin says, "is that we can now leverage each other's strengths and refer for specific issues."

The Curis Functional Health offices under Dr. Godwin's purview address your body's structure and supports your lifestyle with useful advice and a range of additional services. He and his stellar staff offer services that include chiropractic, mental health, nutrition and weight loss, to name a few. He is also certified in the Webster Technique for pregnant women.

All that noted, there's another bit of news regarding Dr. Godwin that fits perfectly under the entrepreneurial umbrella: He is the Chair-elect for the Greater Arlington Chamber of Commerce, where he will be helping the local business community continue to develop and grow economically.

Aziz Kobty

Prince Lebanese Grill

Years from now, the good folks who make Prince Lebanese Grill one of Arlington's favorite restaurants will likely recall the fall of 2021 with great fondness. The popular eatery was featured in Texas Monthly magazine, restaurant

Manager Aziz Kobty and the team were chosen to serve as the celebrity chef for the Dallas Cowboys' home opener at AT&T Stadium, and the Kobty family was inducted into the Arlington Highlands Rotary Club as honorary members.

All those achievements symbolize why Prince Lebanese Grill is known for its outstanding food, superior service and a heart for paying back those with whom they live and work. Oh, yes, one more thing: In August, Prince Lebanese Grill earned its fourth straight Arlington Today Readers' Choice All Star honor.

Mike & Amy Wade

Wade Funeral Home & Crematory

As a consistent member of Arlington Today's Readers' Choice All Star team and as a back-to-back winner of our Editor's Choice award for customer service, Wade Funeral Home & Crematory has long been a hallmark family owned company that serves its clients and the community at large in all the right ways.

Mike and Amy Wade have comforted area residents for some two decades with compassion, attention to detail and a heart for service.

Mike and Amy purchased Wade Funeral Home in Hubbard, Texas in 1985, and built Wade Family Funeral Home in Arlington in 2003.

Mike is owner and funeral director in charge. He actively supports the community and is a member of the Arlington Kiwanis Club, downtown Rotary Club, Arlington Historical Society, Arlington High School Alumni Association, Texas Funeral Directors Association, National Funeral Directors Association, and Toy Train Collector's Association.

Amy is the marketing director for Wade Funeral Home. She, likewise, is very active with the community, serving on numerous committees of organizations in Arlington. She and Mike are members of First Baptist Church of Arlington.

Since its founding in Arlington, Wade Funeral Home has served as the community's only locally owned and family operated funeral home. And because the Wades are so invested in that community, they and every staff member are passionate to serve their neighbor clients with world-class service.

"You may wonder why local, family ownership matters," Mike says. "The reason it does is our pure dedication to care of this community during the most trying times in life, the loss of a loved one. You have choices, but no other provider in this community can match our experience and personal commitment to our friends, neighbors and all the families in the communities we serve."

Dr. Melissa Danchak

Kos/Danchak Audiology & Hearing Aids

An Arlington Today Editor's Choice winner the past two years, Kos/Danchak Audiology & Hearing Aids and practice owner Dr. Melissa Danchak have been virtually unmatched in achieving the honorable mission of "helping people hear better" - for more than three and a half decades.

That kind of longevity underscores just how consistently important the stellar team at Kos/Danchak Audiology & Hearing Aids has been to its patients and to the community since the practice was founded in 1985.

"There are not many audiology practices in the North Texas area that can say they've been helping people hear better for over 35 years," says Dr. Danchak. "We believe that the hearing health care experience is about making folks feel confident in their decision to address their hearing health care needs first and foremost. We believe our patients feel confident in the services we provide - they know we are walking with them on their journey to better hearing!"

Dr. Danchak began working at Kos/Danchak Audiology in 1997 and purchased the practice five years later. She has a passion for providing unparalleled care and service for her patients, and their gratitude for her investment in their lives is on full display in the hundreds of online reviews they have been sharing for years.

While her formal education gave her the book knowledge needed to become an audiologist, Dr. Danchak certainly believes that learning is a lifelong process.

"Like any small business, we experience change, adversity, success, and a whole host of other 'stuff' on a regular basis," she says. "We try to learn, every day. We evaluate how we help people, and we try to make the hearing health care experience better for the people that we meet with each day. Our goal is for each person to have a better experience with us every time they visit."
